Flynt's Brother-in-Law Target of Bomb Blast

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An explosive device yesterday damaged a car at the home of William Rider, a former policeman and brother-in-law of Hustler magazine owner Larry Flynt. The 1:25 a.m. blast also caused minor damage to Rider's house and yard. He could not be reached for comment.

Flynt is reported to be in California undergoing therapy for paralysis he suffered after being shot earlier this year outside a Georgia courthouse where he was on trial on obscenity charges.
